

DeltaHearing®

Hear well, live better.

Your journey to better hearing starts here.

48 million Americans have hearing loss

Hearing loss doesn't play favorites with age — it can affect anyone. Did you know that about 12% of all US workers face hearing difficulty? Taking early action can keep you safe, happy, and at your productive best.

Could your ears be trying to tell you something?

What causes hearing loss?

Hearing loss is a common issue that affects millions across the country, making it a shared experience for many. It stems from a variety of factors, but some of the most common include aging, noise exposure, health and medical conditions, certain medications, and more.

When should I get my hearing checked?

Hearing loss can come on so gradually that you might not even notice it's happening! In general, you should have your hearing screened every 3 to 5 years, and tested annually if you are over the age of 50 or experiencing any of the following:

- Difficulty understanding in noisy environments or groups
- Hearing mumbling or feeling as though people are not speaking clearly
- Consistent exposure to loud noises
- Frequently needing to increase the volume on devices
- Ringing in your ears

Think you might have hearing loss?

Don't worry! DeltaHearing brings you convenient, comprehensive hearing health care and best-in-class hearing aids — for less. Much less.

Frequently asked questions

- ? Why choose DeltaHearing?
DeltaHearing offers unique and exclusive discounts on the best-in-class hearing aid brands. With advanced in-home care powered by Yes Hearing and state-of-the-art remote adjustments, DeltaHearing is the market leader in advanced hearing care and devices.
- ? What causes hearing loss?
Hearing loss affects over 40 million Americans and is most commonly caused by aging. Age-related hearing loss (sensorineural hearing loss) occurs gradually over time as the inner ear structures deteriorate. Other factors include exposure to loud noises, genetics, ear infections, earwax buildup, certain medications, and underlying medical conditions.
- ? When should I get my hearing checked?
It's recommended to have your hearing checked annually, especially if you're over 50 or have risk factors like noise exposure or a family history of hearing loss. Additionally, if you notice signs of hearing difficulty, such as trouble following conversations or asking people to repeat themselves, it's a good time to schedule a hearing evaluation.
- ? How can I prevent hearing loss?
To prevent hearing loss, you can take precautions like using ear protection in noisy environments, keeping the volume down on personal audio devices, and maintaining good ear hygiene. Regular hearing check-ups can also catch problems early.
- ? Do I really need hearing aids?
Even mild hearing loss can have significant, negative impact on your mental and physical health, income, and overall quality of life. If you think you could benefit from better hearing — don't wait! A professional hearing evaluation is quick and easy, and can determine if hearing aids are appropriate for you.
To book your free, personal, and professional hearing consultation, visit Delta.YesHearing.com today!
- ? What kind of hearing aids are available?
We offer all of the leading brands of hearing aids in a wide variety of technology levels, price points, and styles. Today's hearing aids also offer convenient features like rechargeable batteries and bluetooth connectivity as standard. The choice of hearing aid depends on your hearing loss, lifestyle, and personal preferences.
- ? How can I pay for my hearing aids?
We have a variety of payment methods available, from credit cards to payment plans over 12 and 24 months through major healthcare finance providers, including interest free options. Visit us at Delta.YesHearing.com to learn more about our payment plans and discover which payment option is right for you!
- ? How does virtual care work?
Virtual care — also known as telehealth or telemedicine — allows you to consult with one of our hearing care professionals via video chat, similar to Zoom or Skype. All you need is a smartphone and an internet connection to get started. It's super easy and convenient!
- ? What virtual services are offered?
We offer initial consultations, follow-up appointments, and even hearing aid fittings and adjustments via virtual care. During these virtual appointments we can test your hearing, discuss the results, and even fit, program, and make adjustments to your hearing aids. Virtual care services are included in all hearing aid packages.
